What a wonderful day we had yesterday at the St Josephs school. We all travelled by car and bus, and participated in a Indigenous Cultural Infusion.

We started with face painting, then did art with Leonie, learning some traditional aboriginal symbols. We talked about aboriginal history with Big Al, and he told the Senior classes a story about the Boy and the Crocodile and the infants class a story about How the Echidna got its Spikes. The stories taught children morals, history and life lessons.

Tristan taught us how to do aboriginal dancing, the girls learnt the emu dance and the eagle dance and the boys learnt the kangaroo dance and the goanna dance. We all got to have recess and lunch and we played the with St Josephs kids.

At the end of the day Tristan got dressed in his aboriginal tribe’s uniform and put on a aboriginal dance show for everybody, then the students also put on show from the dances they had learnt earlier. At the end of the day we all went home. It was awesome day at St Josephs and we all had a great time!
